Dear Recruiter/Hiring Manager,

My name is Soban Farhan and I'm a software developer. I'm a recent graduate from Durham College Computer Programming and Analysis program. I'm extremely interested in applying for your Software Developer - New Grad position, to expand my horizon with new technology and gather more work experience.

During my studies, I worked as a part-time software developer. My role consists of taking on projects which were related to web, chat bot, and database development. I got experience with technologies such as .NET Core, C#, C++, Java, JavaScript/jQuery, Restful API, MySQL, Entity Framework, Python, Django, Machine Learning, etc.

Some of my work can be found on my personal website: https://sobanfarhan.net/

It would be an absolute pleasure to be a part of IXL Learning and expand my horizon with new technologies and different team dynamics. I believe my current knowledge and understanding of technology, communication, and attitude could be beneficial.Thank you for your time and consideration for this position.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Soban Farhan
